

Robyn Elliott Bio

Committed to the renewal of the missional church, the healing of the city, and the redemption of culture, Robyn's passion is to pursue the incarnation of the gospel in every facet of life.

A lay minister for most of her adult life, Robyn graduated from Tyndale Seminary, Toronto, ON with a Master of Divinity degree in 2014. She has served on the Teaching Team at Nashville Road Community Church in Kleinburg, ON, has led their Prayer Ministry Team, and authored their daily Prayermail challenge.

Robyn's fervour for critical theological reflection finds expression in her dedication to preach with cultural relevancy and an awareness for the churched, the un-churched, and the de-churched.

In her spare moments, you may find Robyn curled up with tea and a good book. Occasionally, with the excuse of visiting family, she can be found walking the beach in her native Barbados with husband Steve. Steve and Robyn have 3 adult children, and a (beautiful) granddaughter.

Breakout Session Title

Thy Kingdom to Come: A Prophetic Prelude